7 PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

7.1 Program Description

The Graduate Certificate in Mental Health Nursing and Allied Health has been devised and developed following extensive consultation with the professions to address a shortage of practitioners in acute mental health areas. The interdisciplinary program was designed both to upskill the existing workforce and to attract and train appropriate registered nurses and allied health staff for existing and newly created positions in this expanding area of practice. This program encompasses the skills required for triage, assessment, intervention, liaison and emergency care through a blended learning approach structured to provide students with the practical knowledge, theory and ethics essential for the challenging acute-response environment.

7.2 Program Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of the Graduate Certificate in Mental Health Nursing and Allied Health graduates will be able to:

1. Utilise evidence based knowledge and skills in the planning of respectful, safe, effective and holistic nursing care for the client with acute mental health illness.
2. Integrate evidence based models of decision making with the Nursing and Midwifery Board of Australia National Decision Making Framework and the Mental Health Act (1996) in the planning of patient centred care within the acute mental health context.
3. Use evidence based models of clinical reasoning to facilitate clear effective communication and confident negotiation skills.
4. Harness interprofessional collaboration to provide excellent patient care and achieve common goals
5. Model responsible and professional behaviours to colleagues and students in order to provide safe, culturally appropriate and socially just care within a medico-legal framework for acutely mentally ill patients.
6. Deconstruct one's own biases as a means of applying and building professional expertise in the care of acutely mentally ill patients.
7. Reflect on practice to facilitate awareness and knowledge of one's own cognition in order to establish a mechanism for lifelong learning.
8. Conduct research retrieval and enquiry to debate contemporary mental health challenges on the global stage, incorporating philosophical, technical and social justice perspectives.

7.3 Required Courses

To be eligible for the award of Graduate Certificate in Mental Health Nursing and Allied Health students must complete a minimum of 100 Units of Credit chosen from the courses listed in Appendix A comprising:
